

Company Overview

At Marzilli Machine Co., we take pride in being a family-owned precision CNC machine shop. You can find us located in the heart of Fall River MA, about an hour south of Boston. Since 2011, Jamie & Lee Marzilli have been serving the needs of customers in the Aerospace, Firearms, Defense, & Medical Industries. We are committed to delivering exceptional machining services to our clients. Quality control is at the forefront of everything we do, and we go above and beyond to ensure that every part we cut meets the highest standards of precision. With two shifts in operation, we were able to meet demanding production times without compromising on quality. We are passionate about our parts and always strive to exceed customer expectations.
